ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A network consisting of member users and member vendors and a method of insuring the privacy of those members. The network, known as the e-Privacy Network, allows user members to browse the Web with the security of having a consent/permission relationship, known as an e-Privacy contract, when browsing the sites of member Users are protected by cookie-removal protection when vendors. browsing a non-member site. Because user members are protected by the e-privacy contract, they are confident in allowing their personally identifiable information, known as an e-profile, to be The e-cookie software permits Web submitted to member vendors. sites to collect non-identifiable information about the member users that may result in better targeted advertisements, offers, deals, etc. for user, as well as incentives for the submission of e-profile information. A method and means for monitoring or auditing internet usage is also disclosed.

LITMAN LAW OFFICES, LTD. P.O. BOX 15035 ARLINGTON, VA 22215 (703) 486-1000